I try to reply my comment, and I didn't get informed, so I don't know if my visitors can get my reply. I want to know how can I get informed. Since we all provide the email when commenting, I want to be informed by email. Is that function provided only for paying users? Or maybe there isn't such function at all.

All users have the ability to enable `reply notifications` on the user settings page. Additionally, a user is able to `watch` a thread to get updates.
